When you list an item in two categories which have different final value fees, the higher final value fee will apply when your item sells.	 All fees are listed in Australian dollars and apply to listings and subscriptions on ebay.com.au.  If you list an item in two categories, insertion & feature fees applicable are doubled. If the categories have different final value fees, the higher final value fee will apply when your item sells.  Store subscriptions are for a minimum 30-day period.  Insertion and feature fees are the same regardless of listing duration, except Good 'Til Cancelled, Good 'Til Cancelled listings renew automatically unless all of the items sell, you end the listing or the listing violates an eBay policy, with Insertion fees charged every 30 day period.  When charging an insertion fee for multi-quantity fixed price listings, we calculate the total start price as item price x quantity.  In the event your seller account is suspended for any reason, any amounts due on your seller account will immediately become due and payable. eBay reserves the right to immediately charge any amounts you have not previously disputed to the billing method that you are using.  Auto-rebill: Available to non-Business sellers only. Items can re-list up to three times without counting towards monthly free listing entitlement or incurring additional insertion or feature fees. Some categories excluded - see http://sellercentre.ebay.com.au/sites/default/files/files_by_category_AU.pdf  We may apply an additional final value fee in the following circumstances: If your account doesn't meet our minimum performance standards at the time of sale, your final value fees will increase by 2% for sales in all categories. If your rate of 'Item not as described' returns is evaluated in your service metrics as Very High in one or more categories, your final value fees will increase by 2% for sales in those categories. Listings will only attract one additional final value fee. The additional 2% (e.g. a 6% final value fee becomes 8%) is calculated on the total amount of the sale and will apply on top of the standard maximum charge per sold item.
